Letter From Supervisor Montgomery.

EDITORS REPUBLICAN: During the recent session of the Board of Supervisors my attention was called to a letter in your issue of March 5, written by Thomas Davis, of our township, was accounted for in the June report of the Sheriff as a receipt of his office dur-Mr. Davis is of the opinion that the fee and salary committee paid the sheriff more money than was due him, in their settlement with that officer, for the year anding Nov. 31, 1889, In our report we found that the sLeriff had collected for the year $2005.15, from this we deduct his personal salary of $1800, leaving a balance of $265.15. The aw, as we understand it, provides that any excess of receipts of his office over his personal salary shall be applied to the payment of his expense account, when it is properly certified to. "We found that his expense account for the year amounted to $138 above balance be applied to the payment show, "that he had earned for which the county was liable, fees in masane pamper ases and for attenuing the various courts $394,40, and recommended that an order be issued in favor of the sheriff for the hands due the county of $127.15."

Now, Mr. Davis claims that we paid him this amount of $394.10 in excess of personal salary. Knowing Mr. Davis as I do I am well aware that in writing this letter he is inspired by no other desire than that the fixed salaries of the county officers shall be the limit of the amoun of money paid them by the county board, and I can assure him that the committee in question chare this desire with him to a very great degree. We were very earnest in our endeavors to make this report conform to the law. Our anxiety in this matter led us to counsel with the State's Attorney and with a former member of the board of ten or twelve years experience. The report was in exact accord with their views.

As chairman of this committee 1 will say, that were it true that we had made such a mistake, we would frankly admit it; but since the question was raised as to payment in excess of salary we again submitted the report to the State's Attorney and were assured by him that in paying the Sheriff the several amounts of fees for attending the various courts and insame pauper cases we did only what the law required us to do. In this opinion he is sustained by J. P. Miller, of fun-cola, Ill., who has achieved quite a reputation as an expert in checking up the accounts of county officers, and by a gentleman who has figured prominently as an attorney for the county.

Mr. Davis's mistake is evidently made in counting this $304.40 as a receipt instead of an earning of the office of the sheriff for the fiscal year ending Nov. 31, 1889, and adding it to the salary of the sheriff for that year, when it is only an earning of the office during the year 1889 and does not become a receipt this efficient is the office of the office come a receipt of his office until the present fiscal year, and must therefore be applied upon this year's salary.

It is possible that I shall be able to show more clearly just who is mistaken by reference to the records of the board covering the years 1887 and 1888; and for fear that Mr. Mills has allowed the fact that he was once retained by the sheriff in a suit against the county to warp his judgment, that a very intelligent ex-member of the board has turned boodler, that our expert has received a tip from the energi, and that this combination, through the credulty of the fees and salary committee, have actually defrauded the county out of $391.40; we will go back to the records during the time when Judge Vail was state's attorney and South Macon furnished the chairman of the board. During the time to which I now refer the reports of the fee and salary committee were scrutimzed by the men who had inaugurated the suits that have been dragging their (to the county) weary length through on

On pages 480 and 181, Record C, June term, 1857, the committee report that the sheriff had collected $917,65 for the half year ending June 1, 1887. They pay him has personal salary $900 for the half year and then find that there is due the sheriff for which the county is liable, insane pauper cases and for attending courts, $190, and issue an order on the treasury in his favor for the same.

Again at the December term, 1887, a form of report was submitted to the board by which the sheriff should be governed by which the sherid should be governed in making out his future semi-annual reports. This report was drawn up by Judge Vail and adopted upon his suggestion after having carefully examined the law governing settlements with the sheriff. This form and the report of the committee will be found on a research.

committee will be found on pages 556 and 557, Record C. In this report the committee find that there is due the sheriff on personal cal-ary $215.20. They pay him this amount out of fees in criminal cases, and then, after striking a balance on personal salary, "find that there is due the sheriff for which the county is liable, fees in insance pauper cases and for attending the vari-ous courts, $435.80. The committee say ons courts, $435.80 The committee say that this amount is due the sheriff and should be paid him, but for the fact that which he had been ordered to pay into the county treasury but which he had refused to do.

I can see how Mr. Davis might be, and I believe he is, honest in the position he has taken, but I cannot see how a member of the board who voted for the adop-tion of the above report, can reconcile that vote with his attack upon the present fees and salary committee for paying the sheriff the tiem of $394.40. If, as claimed, we paid this item in excess of salary, the board must have at that time paid him a much larger amount in excess. The fact that they deducted this amount from money in his possession due the county does not clear them by any means. There is only one conclusion to be drawn from this and that is that if Judge Vail and the board were right then Mr. Mills and the board are right

A plainer case and one that serves my purpose better, will be found in the report of the fees and salary committee for the fiscal year ending Nov. 30, 1888. Among the gentlemen whose names are appended to that report will be found those of long experience upon the Loard and others in whom the people have reason to place confidence. This report will be found on pages 78, and 79 Record D

This communication is already lengthy to admit of an account of the recommendation in regard to the $127.15 than to find it "A net balance in the hands of the Sheriff due the county." Suffice it to say that I rely with sufficient confidence upon the counsel we have taken to agree to hold myself personally responsible to the county in case of the loss of this amount by action of our committee.

A PECULIAR CASE

The Distress of a Decatur Mother Who Loses Her Darling Boy

Four years ago last December, Winnie

C Crozier, of Rushville, Ill, then as now, traveling salesman for a Chicago mar ble house, became the husband of Miss Jeannette Sollars, daughter of Mrs R G. Sollars, of West Decatur street The couple resided at Rushville with the parents of the groom for awhile, and because all was not peaceful they removed to Kansas City coming later to Decatur, the groom spending about $1000 for res dence property on West Decutur street between the homes of Huram Johnson and John K. Warren. There their child. was born a son Winnie by nine, who is now three years old Mr Croziers I usi ness takes him to the weak a great deal of his time and Le is home only at inter vils. It has been his desire for his wife and child to mak their home in Kinsas City and he had made methertusl over tures to have his Decitur home sold but to this proposition Mrs Crozie would not consent, neither would she wree to go to Kansas City Mr Cr zier hall been absent four months when he can e home in Lebruary last, and he had reconciliation with his family. He offered to do everything imaginable for his wife saying that they would go to St I oms and he would buy her the inest dress that money could obtain and it her out complete regardless of expense. He went away on a lusiness trip and it was arranged by letter that the wife should meet the husband at Hurst's botch in St Louis yesterday Mis Ciczer went down on the early trun leaving her little boy with her widowed mother A few hours after the wife had gone Mrs Scl. lars was surprised to receive an diffrom Mr Crozier. He was in no hurry and paid the usual attention to ma little boy Finally he said he would take Winnie out for a walk, and get his han cut. The eact that Mr Crezier took lis overcoat with him arouse I the suspicions of Mrs. Sollars, but she took no action, only wor ried a great deal, as Crozer and the boy did not return. At not a she had a tale gram sent to ner daughter at St Louis telling her that Mr Cicrer and taken the boy away As late as 11 a m yester day Mr. Crozier and the boy were seen at the Union depot but then it was not known that anything was wrong. Where Crozier went to is yet a mystery During the afternoon Mis Sollars and a lady friend were it the Union dejot in search of Crozier and the boy but they could not be dis overed. It was then fully realized that the father had taken his son away, indit is charged

Attempted Murder at Assumption -The Town Marshal the Victim.

City Marshal Jordan, a tall man, was murderously assaulted at Assumption last evening between 7 and 8 o'clock, a thief having shot him in the face with small shot, fired from a strange weapon He was not fatally injured, but the wound was awful in lacerating the face and producing agonizing pain. With the blood streaming down his face Jordan walked to the drug store and had the wounds dressed Fortunately none of the shot struck his eye, but one went in just above the left eye

The first news of the sensational incident came in a telegiam to Marshal Mason, who was also given a partial description of two men implicated in the assault Later from a party who arrived on the 9 45 train from Assumption, the REPUBLICAN reporter learned that four strangers were seen at Assumption yesterday evening, and they had a quantity of knives and revolvers in their possess ion Mazshal Jordan had notice that a robbery had been committed recently at Paris, Ill, and that a reward of $100 had been offered to arrest the thieves | The strangers were thought to answer the lescription of the thieves and Jordan at 7 o'clock came across two of the strangers near a straw stack 12 the north end of the town Jordan was alone He placed both men under arrest and told them to come with him Just then the weapon to the hands of one of the supposed thieves was discharged in the face of the officer. The two men fled in the darkness and Jordan walked to the drug store for surgical attention The shooting aroused the inhabitants of the town as nothing else could, and all turned out to join in the chase after the murderous pair, but they could not be found. Parties came up on the Central train as far as Moawequa, got off, seat tered and walked back to Assumption, on the lookout for the strangers. One of the man was described of small stature, wearing a light overcoat and a slouch hat The other had a sear on his neck and is stoop shouldered

There had been no arrests reported up so noon to day | The Pecatur police have been noting all strangers closely

Quire a large party of friends and rel atives were at the depot this forenoon to bid Mrs C B Moore and children goodbye They departed for Annapolis, Md, where she will join her husband, Lieut Moore, who is a drillmaster at the naval

P.PERL,

WHY COUGH. It is surprising the amount of mesmeric influence some men possess,' remarked an expert bookkeeper "Some time ago in New York I had to go over the books of a firm that had dissolved to have a cough as a time and no other remedy is so effective as his world-ronowned prepartion. No household with young children, should be without it soors at lives me straighten out matters When I started the balance sheet showed $25 000 m favor of pattner No 1 Well for days and days we worked on the books. It was the most tiresome work I ever under took Partner No 1 was a remarkable man, persuasive and affable in demeanor Sometimes he would come in to go over some of the figures with me. These are not right he would say I knew they were and would say so Then he would start to argue with me and I felt myself giving wav Finally I would have to leave the room. In the hall I would walk up and down, saving to myself, You're a fool. You know your figures are right. When he had departed I would recover and be able to go on But all the while I felt the man's subtle in fluence. I struggled against it. Do our duty. I kept saying to myself your duty. I kept siving to moself
